LOCAL EVENTS.

Redges Honorably Discharged by the Grand Jury-Wood Wanted in Tennessee for Murder.

Horse and the Thief Arrested in Denison Small Fire-Knecked With Knucks -Firemen's Convention.

Honorably Discharged.

N. B. Hedges, who was arrested at the instance of Mr. G. W. Wilderman charged with swindling, was discharged from custody yesterday. The grand jury, after investigating the case, declined to find a bill of indictment against him. Mr. Hedges' friends, who were satisfied of his innocence, rejoice that he has been libercence, rejoice that he has been liber-ated. This is another instance of in-justice done a young man, and shows that the utmost caution should be ex-ercised before taking any step calcu-lated to leave a blight on a man's name, unless there is sufficient grounds to insure a conviction. Mr. Hedges leaves for Cleburne this morning.

His Whereabouts Unknown.

Bayeral days ago J. W. Johnson, an officer for the state of Tennessee, arrived in this city with a requisition for H. O. Wood, whom he claims is wanted in Tennessee for the murder of one Ben Davis. The crime is said to have been committed in 1875, and Mr. Wood has been in Texas ever Mr. Wood has been in Texas ever since. Prior to the arrival of Johnson Capt. St. John, Wood's partner, received a telegram from friends in Tennesce warning him that Johnson was coming after Wood. Wood then left the city, and his present whereabouts are not known, out Capt. St. John states that Wood has no idea of fleeing from the law, but that he intends to go back to Tennessee a free man, and not be carried back by an officer. He says that Johnson will proba-bly find Wood on his return to Tennessee. The crime for which Wood is wanted was committed in a fight.
Ben Davis, the deceased, and Wood had a difficulty, and they both drew knives, when Wood cut Davis, from the case, when nothing new having developed they adjourned until to-day. the effects of which he died. Mr. Wood has been living in Fort Worth for about five years, and has borne an excellent character all the while. His leighbors and men who have business relations with him all testify to the fact that he is a man of the best standing, and has a ways conducted himself as a good citizen, and that he had never changed his name.

Caught in Denison.

Sheriff Maddox received a telegram from J. W. Mixson, constable at Denison, stating that the horse which was tolea from Mitchell Bros. here last Sunday and the thief were held at up to Denison last night and will re-turn to-day. The man who stole the horse went to Mitcheil's stable last Bunday and hired the horse, stating that he wished to go out into the coun-try to the place of a man named Clark, but instead of going there he went in another direction, and was heard of # Knecked Down.

Last night about 10 o'clock a man named Polk from Waco was walking along Rusk street, near the corner of Twelfth, when he was struck in the face and knocked down by one of three men, who were passing nim on the sidewalk. The men ran off immediately, but two officers happened along and, on being told of the attack made upon him by Polk, they caught the men. Polk, however, was unable to sitentify them, and the officers turned them loose. Polk thinks that he was struck with brass knucks, and the wound on his face looked as if it is the men made by something of that been made by something of that

Peter Smith ompany No. 1 issued a challenge to any local company for a contest on that day, which has, we learn, been accepted by both the John A. Thorn-ton and E. M. Daggett companies and all are drilling for a contest that promises to bequite interesting. There being no water on the ground they ments found were three for horsements found were three for horse-stealing, four for murder, three for theft over $20, one for bur-glary, three for swindling and forgery, one for assault with intent to murder, one for theft from the person, two for forgery, two for robbery. Madam Brown, Blanche Williams and W. C. Nowell, the trusty, were indicted for the attempt they made some time ago to liberate the prisoners confined in the county lail, by carrying to the the county jail, by carrying to the prisoners various articles and tools with which to effect their escape.

Whose Babe ! Yesterday morning about sunrise some parties passing along an unfrequented street in the northeastern part of the city found a new-born girl babe upon the sidewalk. It had originally been in a starch box, but a cow tied to a fence near by had, in passing, upset the box with the rope and thrown the corpse out upon the ground. The infant was wrapped about the body with a woman's flannel shirt, while over its head and shoulders a towel was wrapped.

The authorities were at once notified and a jury impaneled, which, after calling upon Dr. Broiles to make veloped they adjourned until to-day. The jury have given the subject their closest attention and nothing will be left undone by the authorities to ferret out this crime, if such it was.

The corpse was taken to the undertaking establishment of R. J. Turnen when it was again thoroughly examined and late in the afternoon it was hurled. was buried.

From the circumstances surrounding the case, the corpse must have been left in this out-of the-way place a day or two previous to its discovery, for it was very black from having lain so long in the sun, and considerably decomposed by having been dead so long.

The point where the corpre was first Denison. Maddox and Mitchell went and a little east of the terminus of the Belt street car line.
As stated above, the officers are very diligently at work upon the case, but as yet have no clew as to the guilty himself; that the merchants of Granbury, as well as the freighters, pre-ferred Fort Worth, but that they could not afford to come to a town so appar-ently indifferent to its own interests. Mr. Evans cites a number of Granbury merchants who have resolved to do all their shipping hereafter to and from Cleburne, among whom were such men as E. A. Hannaford, J. Jones and others. One Granbury firm recently sent 2000 bushels of wheat to Cleburne that, but for the shameful condition of the roads in the Tarrant county part of the road, especially that within five miles of this city, would have sought a market at Fort Worth. Mr. Evans further informed THE GAZETTE that the three worse places on the road from here to Granbury were within five miles of the city; that one of these "mud-holes" was only two miles from Fort Worth; was only two miles from Fort Worth; another was within three miles and the third within five miles; that on his way into town yesterday morning he helped a man who had two horses and only 1300 pounds to pull out of one of these holes, and that he himself was compelled to reduce his los 1 from 2500 to 1500 pounds. was compened to reduce his lost from 2500 to 1800 pounds simply because he could not pull through the three holes mentioned as being within five miles of this city. On the road from Cleburne to Granbury the streams and gullies are all bridged, and the consequence is that trade is directed from four Worth which would confer to Fort Worth which would prefer to seek this market.

The Gazette gives publicity to the statement of Mr. Evans in the hope that it may arouse our merchants to action in the matter. Granbury wants to trade with Fort Worth; that trade will tend to enrich this city and county, but if our people do not care enough for this trade to provide a way for it to reach them, they have no one but themselves to blame for its diversion to other hearts. to other points.
